PLEASE PRINT OR TYPE A NOMINEE BIOGRAPHY IN THE SPACE PROVIDED:

Gary Jones has been with Broco, Inc. since 2008 and has worked extensively with the company's engineering and technology teams on underwater cutting and welding research and development. He has supported international marketing and sales initiatives and consulted on underwater cutting and welding specifications for end users, distributors, diving equipment manufacturers, and a broad range of customers and clients. Over the past several years serving on the ADCI Board of Directors as an Associate Member, has focused on advancing the safety message across the industry. As Marketing Committee Chair, he helped expand ADCI's ability to communicate safety and best practices—most notably by co-creating and co-hosting The Downline, a podcast built around a simple priority: the safety of the diver at the end of the hose. His approach to Board service is grounded in stewardship: pushing safe dive practices forward because they are the right thing to do for the industry—whether or not they directly benefit Broco. He believes the strongest standards and the best outcomes come from keeping the diver first, every time. In addition to his industry work, he holds a B.A. in Business Administration with an emphasis in international business. He regularly engages with the commercial diving community in the field, through trade shows, conferences, and technical seminars focused on underwater operations, maritime safety, and the marine environment.
